

CLAIMS:

I claim:

- 1           1. A therapeutic glove comprising:
  - 2           a first glove half formed of a flexible material
  - 3           and shaped to cover one side of a person's hand, said
  - 4           first glove half having a plurality of cells formed
  - 5           therein filled with viscous liquid;
  - 6           a second glove half formed of a flexible material
  - 7           and shaped to cover the other side of a person's hand
  - 8           and being movably attached to said first glove half,
  - 9           said second glove half having a plurality of cells
  - 10          formed therein filled with a viscous material; and
  - 11          attaching means attached to said first glove half
  - 12          and to second glove half for removably attaching said
  - 13          first glove half to said second glove half over a
  - 14          person's hand;
  - 15          whereby a therapeutic glove allows a person to
  - 16          exercise the muscles of the hand, fingers, and wrist
  - 17          are exercised during the application of heat or cold
  - 18          to the person's hand.
- 1           2. A therapeutic glove in accordance with claim
  - 2           1 in which said viscous material is a viscous clay.
- 1           3. A therapeutic glove in accordance with claim
  - 2           1 in which said attaching means includes hook and loop
  - 3           material attached to said first and second glove
  - 4           halves.